Hi folks - attached is the most current version of the QFRs. This incorporates input from OPPT, some from region 8 (though we're still waiting on additional info from them for another question), and the revised background response.

Let's work from this version tomorrow morning.

Sorry for forwarding from my personal email. I've been without my work computer, so doing this from home was the only way I could compile all of the input I've received so far.
